Introduction

This document outlines the latest updates to the CTIS public Clinical Trials website. With regards to the secure Sponsor and Authority workspaces, no updates were performed and the latest version of reference is v1.0.62.0 (reference release notes can be found here).

Functional and user interface improvements

In this release of the CTIS public website, the following fix has been deployed:

- Long text fields in event notifications and details popups were not fully visible, preventing users from viewing the complete information.

Detailed fix

A. User interface changes

Fixed an issue where, in the Public Portal, long text fields in event notifications and view details popups were not fully displayed, preventing users from reading the complete content. The affected fields have been updated to display their full content directly within the application, eliminating the need to copy and paste the text into an external editor. [ADO 304443] [PRB0043222]
